

The district does not offer instruction in or transportation to pre-kindergarten classes.

The district offers elementary school instruction at the Johnson City Elementary-Middle School in grades Kindergarten through 5 (Primary K-2; Intermediate 3-5).

The district offers middle school instruction for grades 6, 7, and 8 at the Johnson City Elementary-Middle School. The district offers high school instruction for grades 9 through 12 at the Johnson City High School.

The district may offer a summer school session for academic areas when recommended by the Superintendent and approved by the Board.

The district, as a component of BOCES, shall provide vocational technical education and summer school and shall also provide special education for students with disabilities.

The district offers special education for the disabled wherever it is in the best interests of the students and the district.